

Our Commitment to the Environment

Sustainability is not only a guiding principle for Haring; it is a priority for our business and manufacturing practices that extends well beyond our supply chain.

Our commitment to the environment isn't new. We continue to strive to be the most comprehensive resource for our distributors, architects and the design community. Keeping individuals informed on the ever-changing requirements of sustainable design is just one of our goals. We work with our suppliers, customers and employees to raise awareness of environmental and safety standards while continuing to build value in the doors we manufacture.

We are proud of our achievements in sustainability. An important component of corporate social responsibility is reflected in the types of products we manufacture and sell. As such, every one of our doors is available with at least one of these environmental attributes:

- Recycled Content
- Regional Materials
- Rapidly Renewable Materials
- Certified Wood
- Low-Emitting Materials (No Added Urea Formaldehyde)

A true commitment to sustainability means acting in a way that reduces our impact on the world around us. Although we can never fully eliminate our footprint on the environment, we can and will strive to reduce it.

Contact Haring directly for specifics on which environmental attributes may be applicable for your project needs.

